Introduction

About EASTECO

The East African Science and Technology Commission (EASTECO) was established as a semi-autonomous institution of the East African Community (EAC) at the 5th Extraordinary Summit of the EAC Heads of State held on 18th June 2007. Its overall objective is to promote and co-ordinate the development, management and application of science and technology for regional integration and socio-economic development.

About the Conference

Why You Should Partner

The 3rd E-Health and Telemedicine Conference will gather participants including policymakers from public and private organizations.

It will include e-Health and Telemedicine experts and professionals, Technology and ICT solutions providers, Research and Development Institutions.

The conference will consider and follow-up on the implementation of the resolutions of the second workshop.

The meeting will also introduce EAC public and private sector decision-makers to solutions that will enable the improvement of healthcare infrastructure and delivery through the use of ICTs.
